

BIG BUSINESS WILL TALK WITH WILSON

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 2.—J. P. Morgan had an engagement at the White House today to discuss general business conditions with President Wilson. It was the first of informal conferences the President plans to have with industrial and financial leaders within a short time.

It was said at the White House that Mr. Morgan has asked for the engagement and it is explained that the two men are personal friends. Another version of the meeting was that Mr. Morgan had been invited, through friends, to give his views to the President.

Next week the President will informally confer with Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, who will be entertained at luncheon at the White House. It was said the President invited Mr. Ford.

Officials close to the President said that Mr. Wilson would take such an opportunity to outline his views to the heads of big business in person.

Mr. Morgan's engagement was more or less a surprise to those who have observed the course the President has taken since he entered the White House, in having conferences with captains of industry. It was pointed out that Mr. Wilson was receiving the big business less frequently than his predecessors, in fact has not been asking their advice at all, on legislation affecting business, as many other presidents have done. When the Currency Bill was in passage through congress the president even declined to receive some members of the Morgan firm.

An important conference will be held by the President next Wednesday with the delegation of business men representing the Chicago Association of Commerce. In the delegation will be representatives of six of the largest business corporations in Chicago, having interests all over the country. The conference was requested by the Chicago men primarily to discuss the anti-trust regulations and was readily granted.

Charles R. Flint, the merchant who conferred with Carranza's aids and who has shipped arms to the revolutionists, made a statement in which he says that the revolutionists will need $50,000,000 after their final success to set up a new government in Mexico.

15TH ERUPTION

By Associated Press.

Redding, Cal., July 2.—For the third time in the last forty-eight hours Lassen Peak broke into eruption today. The outbreak is the fifteenth of a series that began May 30 and, except that its duration was not so great, it was almost an exact duplication of yesterday's.

THREE LOSE THEIR LIVES

By Associated Press.

Manchester, N. H., July 2.—Three lives were lost early today in a fire that slightly damaged a lodging house. John Reed was killed when he jumped from a third-floor window. Frederick Cron and Albert LaChance were suffocated in their rooms on the top floor of the four-story frame building. Several others were hurt in jumping from windows.

RATES DROP

Columbus, July 2.—State industrial commissioners, announcing an average 6 per cent cut in premium rates to employers in the workmen's compensation fund, declared that Ohio sells more insurance for less money than any agency, state or commercial, in North America. Ohio's workmen's insurance protection now covers more than 600,000 employees and 13,800 employers.

CITY OF CANTON MAY BUILD HOMES

Canton, O., July 2.—The city of Canton and the chamber of commerce are considering the erection of model homes for foreign born citizens who work here. The houses will be rented under official regulations and would tend to solve, it is believed, the tenement problem.

ROBBER KILLED ANOTHER SHOT

By Associated Press.

Pendleton, Ore., July 2.—One robber was killed and one robber and a deputy sheriff wounded in a fight between five bandits and passengers on west-bound Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation passenger train No. 5 today. The hold up was attempted two miles east of Moachan, fifty miles from Pendleton.

CONCILIATION SUCCESSFUL

By Associated Press.

Charleston, W. Va., July 2.—Officials of the United Mine Workers announced today that the miners had voted to accept the strike settlement recommended by the conciliation board and the men would be ordered back to work next week.

The settlement gives the check-off of union dues and assessments, not to exceed $1.10 per man per month, and the appointment of three to arbitrate the differences in wages with a view to equalizing the rates paid in different parts of the Kanawha field. Miners and operators are each to select a member of this board and these are to select a third. If they cannot agree the selection will be made by Secretary of Labor Wilson. The commission is to give its decision in thirty days.

TWO MAY DIE FROM INJURY

By Associated Press.

Canton, O., July 2.—Five persons were seriously injured and half a dozen badly bruised in a wreck on the Magnolia-Sandyville spur of the Baltimore & Ohio railway today. Two of the injured have fractured skulls and may die. The accommodation train consisted only of an engine and a combination baggage and passenger car. Spreading rails caused the car to jump the track, breaking from the engine, rolling down a fifteen-foot embankment and landing with the wheels up.

KILLED IN JAIL

Youngstown, O., July 2.—C. B. Price, a musician, died in a hospital from a fractured skull from his being assaulted in the city jail. Price had been locked up for intoxication, with several others, among them John Peterson, colored, of Pittsburgh. A fight among the prisoners took place and Price was beaten up and his skull fractured. Paterson is held.

BENCH FOR CLARK

Washington, July 2.—The president has definitely decided, it is said, to appoint John H. Clark, a Cleveland attorney, United States judge for the northern district of Ohio, to succeed William L. Day, who resigned several months ago. This will necessitate Clark's withdrawal as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for senator if he accepts.

C. H. & D. THROWN IN RECEIVERSHIP

By Associated Press.

Cincinnati, O., July 2.—Application for a receiver was made in the United States District Court here today for the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad. The suit was filed on behalf of The Bankers Trust Company, of New York. The action also requests the foreclosure of a mortgage held by the trust company.

Judson Harmon, former attorney general of the United States, and Judge Rufus B. Smith, of this city, were appointed receivers. The bonds of each of the receivers were placed at $50,000.

The petition asked for the receivership, declaring that the entire bonded indebtedness of the railroad is $75,000,000 and charges that the railroad has defaulted on the interest of $29,190,000, first mortgage, and refunding fifty-year gold bonds on $3,162,000, bonds of the Indiana, Decatur & Western Railroad and $4,722,000, bonds of the Cincinnati, Indiana & Western Railroad.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton was thrown into the hands of a receiver in 1905, following the taking over of the property by the J. P. Morgan Company of New York. In 1909 the property was sold to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company which guaranteed certain of the securities.

EVANS MAKES WORDS PLAIN

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 2.—Brigadier General Robert K. Evans, temporarily in command of the eastern department of the army, in a report to Secretary Garrison today, denied that he criticized the administration in a speech delivered in New York last week.

General Evans declares his remarks were misquoted in reports which credit him with having said, "We need a large army because, without great variety of interests, we are naturally the most meddlesome nation in the world." In a letter today to Mr. Garrison, General Evans said he was speaking extemporaneously and forwarded, as nearly as he could remember he said, the remarks he actually made and explained the meaning he intended to convey.

FOREIGNERS ARE UNEASY

By Associated Press.

Vera Cruz, July 2.—Sharing the apprehension felt by most foreigners in Mexico City, several Germans arrived in Vera Cruz today from the capital. They said the German minister, Admiral Paul von Hintze, on Tuesday advised his countrymen to purchase food stocks sufficient to last at least 8 days and to store them in a concentration house chosen far from the center of the city.

THE DEFENSE SCORES ONCE

Albany, N. Y., July 2.—Five witnesses who saw Frank J. Clute driving his car on the night he was murdered swore at the trial of Malcolm Gifford, Jr., that the latter was not in Clute's car. The effect of the testimony on the jurors was electric. For the past few days they have listened to tales which seemed to indicate that Gifford murdered Clute in cold blood, but flat statements from each of the four star witnesses for the defense that Gifford was not the "stranger" in Clute's car on the night of the murder had a telling effect on them.

IN MAN'S TOGS

Cleveland, July 2.—Ethel Villers, twenty-six, Chicago, arrested here masquerading in male attire, said in municipal court, she had been attired thus for three years and enjoyed it. A policeman arrested Ethel as she alighted from a Lake Shore freight train.

STRIKERS HOLD FORCES ENTIRE

By Associated Press.

Pittsburgh, July 2.—Westinghouse strike leaders said today that they had lost none of their force because of the failure of the peace plans yesterday and that they had not given up hope of a settlement.

The strikers' committee was called to a special meeting today to consider a new proposition, the nature of which was not made public. Troopers of the state constabulary continued on patrol today but they had little to do.

WILL FIGHT WET CARRIER

By Associated Press.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 2.—Organization of two local express companies to operate between Wheeling and wet towns of Ohio brought from Anti-Saloon League leaders today the statement that the question would be submitted to the Inter-State Commerce Commission on the ground that to become a common carrier, an express company must carry less than 50 per cent of one commodity. It is also insisted that persons to whom liquor is consigned must appear personally at the transportation offices to claim it.

It was said that the railroads have promised to cooperate with them in the enforcement of the rule.

WOMEN ANGERED

Washington, July 2.—Blame for the present apparent failure of woman's suffrage amendment is laid at the door of the president by advocates of the cause. A group of suffragists who expected action on the proposed constitutional amendment by the house committee on rules, left the Capitol threatening reprisals. The house committee did not meet, although a month ago there was an order for consideration of the prohibition amendment as well as the suffrage amendment.

The explanations made for the failure of the committee to meet was that a postponement was decided upon because of the absence of Chairman Henry. Suffragists say that the house Democrats are following the president's lead in opposing national suffrage.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT

By Associated Press.

Burlington, Ia., July 2.—Clifford Johnson, 25, met death in an unusual way in an automobile accident here today. He was riding with two girl companions, both of whom were said to have been asleep. As the car passed over a bridge Johnson stood up waving his hand in the air. His hand was caught in the bridge girders and he was whisked from the car. When his absence was discovered, a few minutes later the car was run back and Johnson found dead. His arm had been pulled out of the socket and he had bled to death.

CAN'T AGREE

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, July 2.—Operators announced after 2 o'clock today that they had refused to accept the miners' demands and that they would insist on the Pittsburgh scale of 44.61 cents a ton for the machine mined coal.

DROUGHT ENDS

By Associated Press.

Fort Smith, Ark., July 2.—Drought for forty-two days was broken here today when half an inch of rain fell. The precipitation for the entire month of June measured only .38 of an inch, a record at the local weather bureau.

100 PASSENGERS UPON VESSEL FAST ON REEF

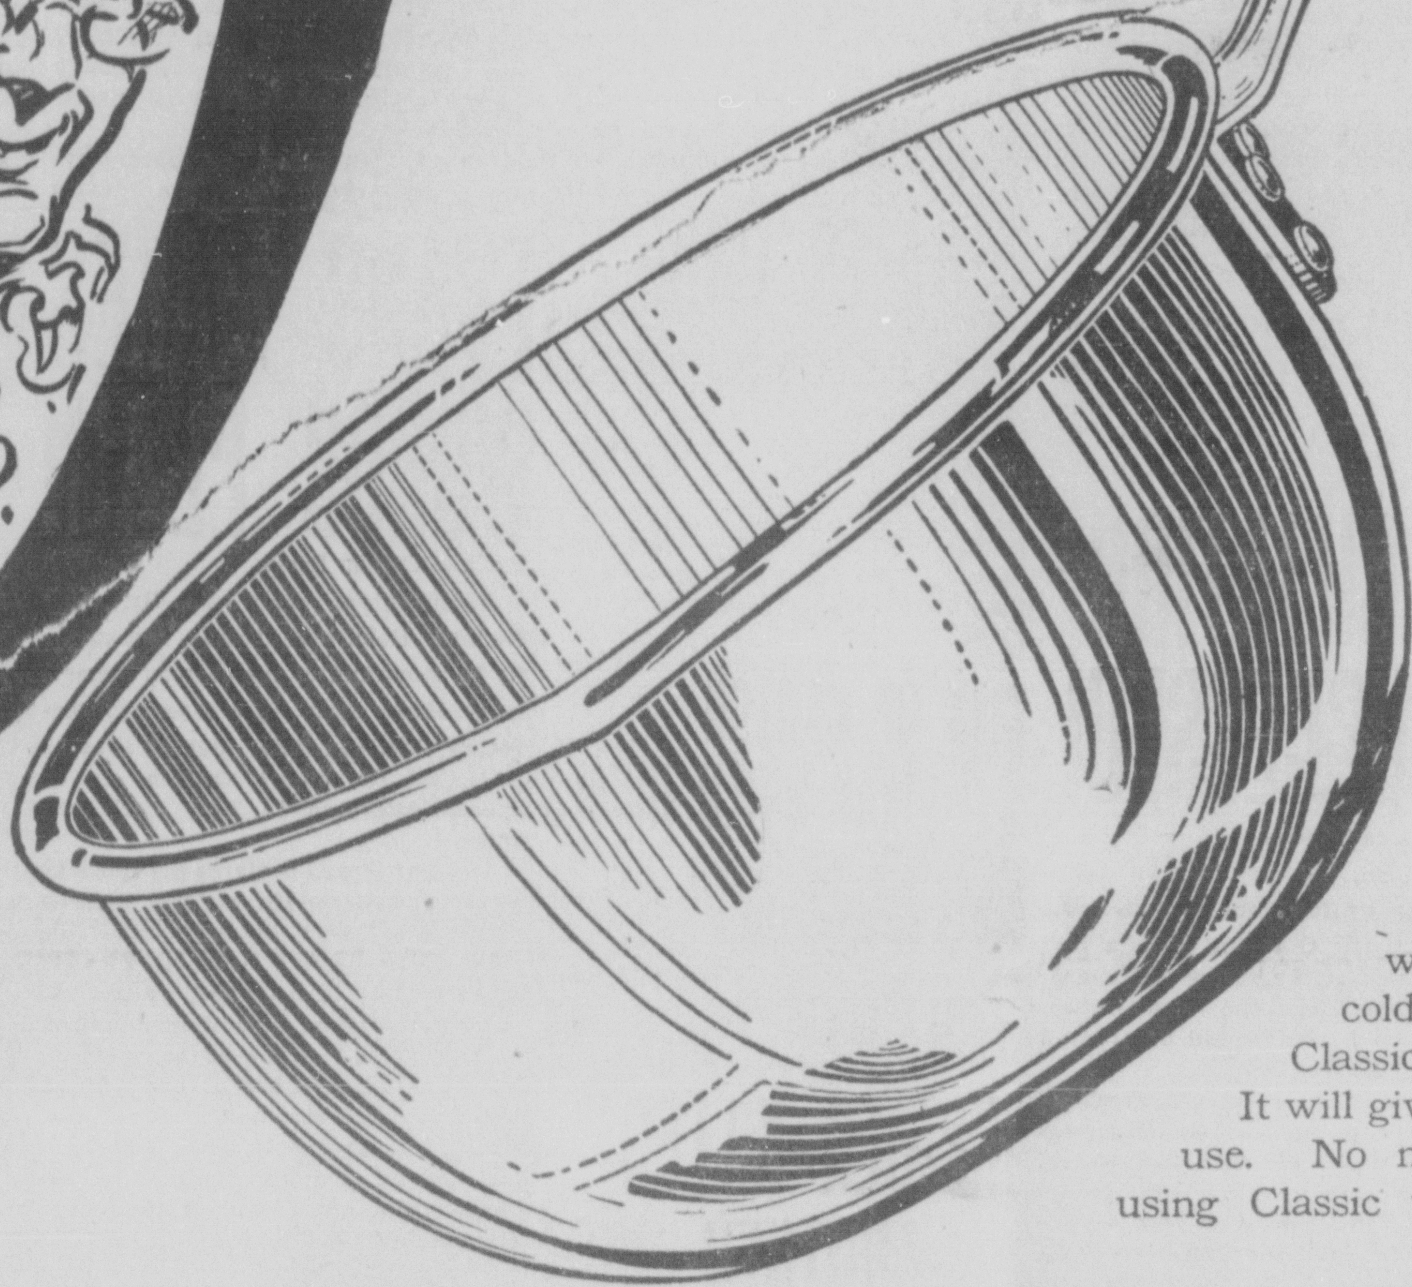

By Associated Press.

Montreal, July 2.—The Canadian-Pacific Railroad steamer Assiniboa, with 100 passengers aboard, went ashore early today at Bad Neighbor Shoal, Cove Island, Georgian Bay. News of the grounding reached the office of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company here from the radio station at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

In communicating the ship's plight the wireless operator on the boat said that it was thought the Assiniboa could back off, as she was swinging and there were eleven fathoms of water under her stern. The fore-peak is leaking slightly. The steamer, Manitoba, was called to the assistance of the stranded vessel, although it was said she is in no danger.

TORRENS LAW IS OBJECT OF ATTACK

A fight has been started at Cleveland to knock out the new Torrens land title registration law, under which the state guarantees the title of all property registered by the owner under this act. George Y. Farmer, a contractor of that city, attacks the law in a suit filed in the common pleas court of Cuyahoga county, in which the claim is made that the law is void and unconstitutional because of attempting to authorize the taking of private property for uses that are not public and without compensation.

It is further claimed that the expenditure by the county commissioners of funds for blanks, supplies for the purpose of putting the act into operation would be misapplication of public money. An injunction is sought restraining the officials from acting under the law. The attorney general's department will defend the act.

Hon. Humphrey Jones, when asked concerning the probable outcome of the suit, expressed himself as being of the firm belief that the suit would result in naught.

Time to Investigate Charges

It is to be regretted, now that the fall of the Huerta government in Mexico seems near at hand, and the end of the multitude of vexatious complications which the government at Washington has been called upon to face is in sight, that the finger of suspicion should be pointed toward officials high in the councils of this nation.

The idea that "big business" as that term is used to express disrespect and disapproval should have influenced any of the officials of this government in assuming the position they did with reference to the contending forces in Mexico is abhorrent to the American people.

While the people are heartily sick and tired of probes and legislative investigations, the inferential charge of wrong-doing and corrupt purpose on the part of some one connected with the Department of State, now being published broadcast throughout the country, should not be allowed to pass unchallenged, even if to do so means conducting another congressional probe.

The inference of wrong doing contained in the sensational publications is so pronounced that it conveys the same damaging impression that a direct and flat charge would carry.

If there is any basis in fact for these ugly charges, the facts should be presented, and any official guilty of dishonest collusion with corrupt financial interests, should be driven in disgrace from his post of duty.

If there is no basis in fact for the publication of the charges—inferentially only though they are—those who resort to such villainous practices should be punished with that degree of severity and with that promptness that it will not only put a stop to the present campaign of villification, but will forever serve as a warning to others.

The day has certainly come in this great land of ours when public servants, if innocent of wrong doing, must be protected from the attacks of those who would rule or ruin them.

The people are entitled to all the facts with reference to the doings of their servants in public office, but that does not mean—or it should not—that every man who accepts a public office must set himself up as a target at which every disgruntled petty politician may shoot without fear of any serious consequences to himself.

Wrong-doing in public office is a monstrous crime, and merits the utmost severity in punishment, but to charge public servants with wrong-doing, even by inference, is a greater crime.

There is no reason why the protecting arm of the civil and criminal laws should not guard the reputation of the public servant with the same jealous watchfulness that it does that of the private citizen, and there should be no more license given to a publisher to defame a public servant's honest name than is given to the loafer on the street corners.

The assassin of an honest public servant's character is just as great a coward as the man who stabs his enemy in the back.

This government has faced many serious crises—more serious than many people are cognizant of—in the Mexican situations and if the men charged with guiding the ship of state through those stormy waters, have been true to their trust, they should be applauded and not ruined by the publication of inferential charges of wrong-doing.

No good citizen desires to shield a dishonest official, but every good citizen should and does desire to protect the name of every man in the public service who has conscientiously discharged every duty imposed upon him.

Poetry For Today

TOO MUCH.

Within his narrow padded cell
He raved the long day through.
I gained his ear and said: "Tray tell
What hath befallen you?
To dim the light within your brain
And rob your soul of rest?
Why do you shriek those words profane
And claw your heaving chest?"

He glared at me a moment's space
With both hands to his head.
A look of pain went o'er his face
The while he sighed and said:
"I rose this morning with the dawn
And coupled up the hose.
I sprinkled water on the lawn
And watered every rose.

"I drenched the tulips and sweet peas
And eke the garden plot.
I moistened up the shrubs and trees
And nearly drowned the lot.
Alas for me—unlucky one!
[His voice became a shout]
Just as I got my sprinkling done
There came a waterspout.

At the same time three other men alleged to be connected with them in enterprises with which fault has been found, were sought on warrants.

Gray, charged with participating in a conspiracy to defraud customers and creditors. They also are charged with misuse of the mails. All five men are alleged officials of the Mercantile Publicity company and of all or part of the thirty-five other companies formed to sell auto and bicycle tires, hosiery, neckwear and a long list of other merchandise. MANNER OF PROCEDURE TO OBTAIN REGISTERED TITLE

Father of the Law Fully Explains Necessary Steps to Obtain Title Under Torrens Registration System—Only One Cost and After Title is Once Registered, Transfer is Very Simple—Registration Voluntarily Under Ordinary Circumstances.

In response to a request for an explanation of the manner in which to proceed to obtain the registration of land titles under the new Torrens law, Hon. Humphrey Jones, whose untiring efforts secured the adoption of the law, has contributed the following article to The Herald, giving information the average land owner desires:

Registration is entirely voluntary in ordinary cases, but the law requires in all cases of judicial sales by administrators, assignees, guardians, etc., that the title shall be registered in the same suit in which the land is ordered sold so that the purchaser will obtain a certificate showing the exact state of the title.

In order to register a title the owner files his application in either the Probate or Common Pleas court to which application all adjoining owners and all persons claiming any kind of an interest in the land, real or apparent, and all persons in possession of any part of the land, are made parties. If there are any unknown heirs and devisees of deceased claimants, real or apparent, they are also made parties under a general designation, and all other possible claimants or possible persons having any interest in or liens against the land are made parties under the general designation, "And all other persons, if any, having any right or interest in or liens upon the lands or any part thereof". The wife of the applicant must consent to the registration, or if she does not consent be made a party defendant. The land must be accurately described and a correct plat thereof given showing all highways, adjoining owners, corners, lines, courses, and distances, monuments, streams and other permanent objects. The applicant must state the nature and sources of his title and how and by whom the property is used or occupied and the name, residence and postoffice address and nature of the interest of each occupant. The nature, amount, date, etc., of all liens, the nature and character of all defects, if any, in the title and the names, residences and post addresses of all persons who could make any claim on account of such defects. The applicant may ask to have the boundaries of highways, streets, etc., fixed and established.

Immediately after filing the application the court refers it to an official Examiner of Titles who, after examining the title makes his report to the court. All parties are then notified by published notice and also by registered mail sent out by the clerk. Parties are given an opportunity to be heard and if no adverse claims are established against the title it is ordered to be registered. The court may, if it deems it necessary, order a survey and planting of permanent monuments. Before the final decree of registration is entered the court again refers the case to the Examiner of Titles for report as to whether all necessary parties have been made and properly brought before the court and whether the proceedings have all been regular and sufficient. Upon a favorable report of the Examiner coming in, the court then enters its final decree of registration, a certified copy of which is sent to the Recorder who binds it in a Register of Titles and it thus becomes the first certificate of title to the land. All liens and incumbrances, if any, against the land are shown in this decree and first certificate of title and nothing not appearing therein can in any way thereafter affect the land. The Recorder issues a duplicate of the registered certificate to the owner and this duplicate becomes the owner's evidence of title and is absolutely incontestible for any cause after the expiration of 30 days which is allowed for appeal or the prosecution of error. All liens which may thereafter be created in any way against the property are required to be entered on the second page of the registered certificate of title in the Recorder's office and nothing not so appearing can in any way affect the title of the owner. It therefore can be told at all times from a mere inspection of the registered certificate what the character of the title of the owner is and all liens and incumbrances there are against it. In case the owner desires to sell his property a deed is executed on a form appearing on the back of his duplicate, the duplicate certificate is turned over to the purchaser who takes it to the Recorder's office, has it and the registered certificate cancelled and a new certificate issued to himself in place thereof. All liens and incumbrances not paid off in the transaction are carried forward onto the new certificate.

After a title is once registered there will be no occasion for the further making of abstracts of title, examinations of title or opinions of attorneys upon the title, but the certificate of title will show every material matter in regard to the title and be absolutely incontestible.

Claim is made that it will make the dealing with real estate as simple, safe, easy and inexpensive as dealing with personal property. The costs of registration are graduated according to the value of the property registered. In ordinary cases it is claimed that the total expenses of registration will not exceed $25 to $30 and that this sum is much less than the ordinary charges for making abstracts of title, opinions of attorneys, continuations of abstracts, etc., with the added advantage that this expense of registration never has to be incurred but once and that thereafter for all time the expenses of dealing with the title in any regard will be nearly nominal.

FAKER LEAVES CITY WITH MANY FAYETTE DOLLARS

Nervy Skin Game Artist Works "Gold Watch" Gag With Good Success—City is Becoming a Regular Stop for Venders.

That Washington C. H. is a veritable Mecca for street fakirs and skin-game artists of all classes has been proven repeatedly in the past few years, but every once in a while the fact is borne out more strongly than usual by the daring and always successful work of some unusually nervy one.

A traveling artist made his debut in Washington Saturday afternoon and the way he separated a few of the city's trusting sons from their greenbacks was amazing, to say the least.

Not more than 25 or 26 years of age and of good appearance, the smooth young fellow presided over a pedestal counter of miscellaneous ware at the corner of Main and Court streets and plied his "art" with continual success from early Saturday afternoon until late in the evening.

STOOKEY HOLDS UP FELLOW PRISONER

Youth Confined in the County Jail For Stealing Mother's Horse, Threatens Another Prisoner With Death If He Reveals Robbery.

Under threats of death, if he protested or gave information concerning the robbery, Orville Stookey, confined in the county jail for stealing a horse from his mother, deliberately held up and robbed one of the Coe brothers who was placed in the county jail Wednesday on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The youth who was robbed had 78 cents in his pocket, and Stookey forcibly relieved him of the amount and then threatened death if the boy revealed the theft.

However, the youth was so badly frightened that Sheriff Nelson noticed something was wrong, and made an investigation, which disclosed the robbery.

Stookey was placed in a cell and the door locked so that he cannot have the privilege of the corridors until the other prisoners are removed.

Not only did Stookey get the money, but he secreted it so securely that it has not yet been discovered.

Stookey is regarded as the most incorrigible youth who has been confined in the county jail in recent years.

MRS. ESTELLE MARSHALL DIES IN THE SOUTH

Relatives and friends in this city will learn with deep regret of the death of Mrs. Estelle Marshall, on Wednesday, July 1st, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carl Baer, in Little Rock, Ark.

Mr. J. R. Marshall, a brother-in-law, at whose home Mrs. Marshall has frequently visited, received the sad news, the telegram stating that Mr. and Mrs. Baer would start Thursday for the Marshall's former home in Grand Rapids, Mich., where Mrs. Marshall will be buried.

For some time Mrs. Marshall has been suffering from a serious stomach trouble and has been quite frail during the past year.

A most devoted affection existed between the mother and daughter with whom she made her home, and Mrs. Baer has the warm sympathy of her Washington friends.

NINETEEN ARE UNDER ARREST

New York, July 2.—Frank Longo, eight, who was stolen from his father and mother, in telling of his experience, said that at times he felt so hopeless and hungry in the dark rooms where his captors, a man and a woman, held him that one day he tried to kill himself with a knife. The boy was kidnaped May 13 last. His parents paid $700 ransom in marked bills. These bills led to the arrest of nine men and ten women, all Italians. Macallusi, a grocer, is among the prisoners.

Rose Colored Snow.

Snow of a beautiful rose color has fallen in the Alps, chiefly on the Todi group of mountains (11,887 feet) in the canton of Glarus. On analysis it was found to be impregnated with minute particles of sand. It is thought that this is the aftermath of the great storm in the Sahara, which blew large quantities of sand across the sea and the Italian Alps to the Swiss mountains. The "rose snow" hung in the upper air several weeks before falling.—London Standard.

Portmanteau Names.

The reports in the American press of the movements of troops on the Mexican border are bringing to light some curious "portmanteau words" as names of towns. For example, there is Texarkana, a town in Arkansas near the Texas line. Texico is a town in New Mexico near Texas, and Texhoma, a town in Texas near Oklahoma. Other strange looking blends of state names in the west are Calxico, Calada, Uvada, Kanorado and Wyuta.—Westminster Gazette.

Passing of Old Houses.

Riders and walkers through the New England countryside and villages learn to look for the venerable houses, many of them centenarians twice over, which not only distinguish this region, but fit into its landscapes with a suitability which newer buildings somehow lack. As this interest grows the observer begins to notice that they are all too rapidly disappearing to give place to modern houses which are certainly no improvement in workmanship and architectural design, and not necessarily superior in comfort and convenience if the old houses are properly handled. In losing these ancient buildings we are losing not only parcels of history. We are losing quite as much a dignified and fitting style of domestic architecture which is all the more effective by being severely plain.—Boston Transcript.

The spacious home was fragrant with flowers, an immense bowl of pink roses, effective as the centerpiece of the dining room table.

A delicious summer collation was served and a bowl of golden punch on tapis in the library all afternoon.

The house was beautifully decorated with white carnations and roses, and masses of greenery were used. Great boughs of elms banked doorways and windows, and banked every nook and corner.

The ceremony was performed at 7:30 by Rev. D. G. Pleasant, of the Christian church. Miss LuEmma Hess played the Lohengrin march announcing the approach of the bride!

The bride, who is a very beautiful and charming young girl, was never more lovely than in her wedding robes of white satin, prettily fashioned with Oriental lace. She carried a shower of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served. The bridal table at which covers were laid for fourteen, was prettily appointed in pink and white. A large hand-painted bowl of pink and white roses centered the table, and ferns arranged in the shape of four leaf clovers made an effective border. Individual candlesticks, with pink and white candles, were used.

After July 15, Mr. and Mrs. Lamonda will be at home to their friends at 81 Gordon avenue.—The Dayton Journal.

WILL DISPOSE OF THE TRUST BILLS

Washington, July 2.—All hope for an early adjournment of congress before early fall disappeared when a caucus of Democratic senators voted to remain in Washington until the pending trust bills are disposed of.

In connection with this action an effort was made to obtain a caucus pledge to "pass" the pending anti-trust bills, but it failed. The original resolution was submitted to the caucus after a conference with President Wilson and after it had been approved by the steering committee of the senate. It provided that the session of congress should go on until the bills were passed.

The resolution was presented by Senator Stone. There was such a protest against the language of the resolution that it was modified so as not to bind any senator to vote for the "passage" of any of the three trust bills.

Senator Pomerene of Ohio went on record as saying that he would not approve the Clayton bill with the exemption for labor unions. Senator Reed declared himself against the fifth section of the pending federal trade commission bill which forbids "unfair competition."

Many Democrats wanted to go home after the federal trade commission bill is passed, if it is ever put through. More than one of the Democrats present served notice that congress would not get away before September if the trust legislation was insisted upon. As passed finally the resolution read: "Resolved, that this conference of Democratic senators, after due consideration, hereby declares that the present session of congress should not adjourn until at least the anti-trust bills now pending in the senate are disposed of."

TAKES RAP AT TEDDY ON COLOMBIAN TREATY

By Associated Press.

Hallstead, Pa., July 1.—In a statement issued here tonight dealing with the proposed Colombian treaty, James T. Dubois, who was United States minister to Colombia under the Taft administration, takes issue with the views recently expressed by Col. Roosevelt and explains his own reasons for supporting the treaty. He also analyzes the treaty at some length. Regarding his difference with Col. Roosevelt on this subject, Mr. Dubois expresses regret at opposing "a great leader whose fortunes I devoutly followed for ten years" and states that "no man will tolerate the thought that any of Col. Roosevelt's acts was inspired by tainted motives, but no man is always right."

Negotiations for a treaty during the Taft administration failed he says because his instructions, out of excessive care not to impugn them, motives of President Roosevelt in "taking" Panama, failed to give Colombia sufficient justice. The pending treaty, he believes, should be heartily approved by the American people.

Taking issue with Col. Roosevelt regarding the character of the public men in Colombia, Mr. Dubois declares that they compare well with the public men of other countries in intelligence and respectability, instead of being "blackmailers and bandits," quoting Mr. Roosevelt's declaration that the people of Panama were a unit in demanding the revolution, he says, "a handful of men, who were to be the direct beneficiaries of the revolution, conceived it and not the hundredth part of the inhabitants of the isthmus knew of the revolt until an American officer, in the uniform of the United States army, raised the flag of the new republic."

Regarding the acting president, Marroquin whom he quotes, Col. Roosevelt as describing as "an absolute and uncontrolled dictator," Mr. Dubois says:

"He was a helpless and hapless old man, placed in the midst of great national unrest and disorder at the close of the most disastrous civil war in the history of Colombia. He was not in accord with the congress and the congress was alive with discord, and five millions of innocent and hapless people saw the true interests of their country destroyed by the selfish disputes of less than one hundred men. If Theodore Roosevelt had realized the true situation in Bogota at that hour he would have reinforced his patience with sympathy for that helpless people who had been, for a hundred years, our best friends south of the Rio Grande."

The claim made by Col. Roosevelt that the Colombian treaty is a blackmailing agreement is dealt with by Mr. Dubois in his interpretation of the document.

"While negotiating for a treaty I made the Colombian authorities understand that under no circumstances would the United States apologize to any nation for a political act—that was our unwritten law that never had been and never would be broken. In purely informal conversations, and in my unofficial memorandum, I suggested that a chivalrous expression of regret that our friendship had in any way been marred, such as any real gentleman would freely grant to another, might later be embodied in the treaty as a balm for the wounded feelings of a once friendly nation which had been humiliated before the world, whose credit had been destroyed in foreign countries, whose borrowing ability had been annihilated and whose persistent appeals for arbitration had been ignored. * * * The opposition to this feature, on the ground that it is an apology, is not just and is not in the true interests of the United States. If the Anglo-Saxons are to live in harmony with the Latins on this continent they must treat them with absolute justice, just as we shall exact justice from them."

Dealing directly with Article III of the treaty providing a payment to Colombia which Col. Roosevelt attacked as blackmail, Mr. Dubois describes the claims of Colombia for the unpaid annuities on the cession of the trans-isthmian railway company, the reversionary rights in the Panama railroad and Panama's portion in the Colombian national debt, all of which, in his opinion, should be met by the United States.

"Under the contract of 1867," he says, "Colombia ceded the trans-isthmian railroad company to the Panama railroad company for a period of ninety-nine years, and for this she was to receive $250,000 annually during the life of the contract. At the time of the separation of Panama there were remaining sixty-four annuities unpaid, amounting to $16,000,000. The concession also insured to Colombia reversionary rights in the Panama railroad at the expiration of the contract in 1967."

"The physical value of the railroad shortly after the revolt was placed at $16,446,000. In addition Colombia claims that she is entitled to several millions of dollars for that part of her national debt incurred in the interests of Panama before the revolution, a claim which was recognized in the treaty of 1909 made under the Roosevelt administration. Altogether these claims total about $36,000,000."

Though Colonel Roosevelt asserts that all of the civil rights, titles and pecuniary interests of Colombia passed to Panama at the moment of actual separation, Mr. Dubois declares that these rights had been virtually recognized by the Roosevelt administration itself.

"Colombia," he said, "by an agreement concluded in 1860, contracted a debt of $3,000,000 with the railway company amortizable in 29 years by the company's $250,000 annual payments. The amortization actually proceeded and the debt would have been liquidated in 1909."

But as the U. S. prevented by physical force the suppression of the insurrection on the isthmus by Colombia six years before the debt could be entirely paid, and never attempted to exact the six missing installments of the amortization, they recognized Colombia's right of ownership."

"These and other material claims of Colombia," says Mr. Dubois, "justify the indemnification article of the treaty, to say nothing of the tremendous territorial loss and humiliation that Colombia has sustained."

TWO OHIOANS ARE VICTIMS

Washington, July 2.—Fifteen naval officers, several of them captains with distinguished records, ended their active careers upon the recommendation of the dreaded plucking board. Two Ohio men are in the list. Secretary Daniels made public the names of those selected for compulsory retirement this year, with a formal announcement that he expected to ask for the repeal of the law of 1899, under which the annual plucking is done. The Ohio men plucked were: Captain Frank K. Hill, Cincinnati, and Lieutenant Commander Walter M. Falconer, Springfield.

MEXICAN MUDDLE STILL UNSOLVED

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 2.—The three South American diplomats who undertook to seek a solution to the Mexican problem brought their work to an end without having found that solution. The closing of the mediation conferences was marked by a formal luncheon given by the mediators. All the members of the American and Mexican delegations were present.

The formal statement by which Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil and Ministers Naon and Suarez of Argentina and Chile virtually admitted that they had abandoned hope, took the form of a speech made by the Brazilian envoy. After declaring that he and his colleagues had never disagreed, Senator Da Gama announced that the international conflict had been settled, thanks to the mediators, and that "so far we averted a war."

The optimism expressed by the ambassador of Brazil and his two colleagues does not appear, however, to be felt by anyone else connected with the mediation conference. The American delegates are no more pleased than the Mexicans at the sudden decision of the mediators to abandon their efforts in behalf of peace in Mexico. It is known here that the Washington government was quite willing to keep its representatives here until a solution had been found.

Although sorely disappointed over the outcome of their fruitless labors, the Mexican delegates feel that they and the government which they represent have left no stone unturned in their effort to make peace.

No protocol has been signed as yet indicating when the American forces will be withdrawn from Vera Cruz. This has been left for consideration after the two Mexican factions agree on the new provisional government. It is expected that this protocol, along with others already signed, will be embodied later in a complete agreement to be signed by the Constitutionalist, the Huerta delegates and American representatives. This would finally clear up all points of international difference and fix a date for the recognition of the new government.

GENERALS TO SETTLE ROW

El Paso, Tex., July 2.—That the officers under General Pablo Gonzales, commander of the northeastern division of the Carranza forces, will confer with General Villa's brigade commanders with a view to definitely ending the friction between Villa and Carranza, is the statement of a Carranza supporter who reached El Paso from Saltillo. The meeting of the generals, it is reported, will take place in the next week at some point near Torreon.

GRAVES UPHELD BY REPUBLICAN

Columbus, July 2.—That the supreme court in 1908 upheld the primary law, basing party affiliation on having voted with the party at the last previous general election, has been pointed out by Benjamin F. James of Bowling Green, member of the Republican state executive committee, in the protest he filed with Secretary of State Graves against any reconsideration by the secretary of state of his recent holding that all former Republicans who voted the Bull Moose ticket in 1912 are not entitled to take part in the Republican primary this year.

RAY OF HOPE PRESIDENT IS CHOSEN

Columbus, July 2.—There was a grain of progress in negotiations of the joint subcommittee which has before it the problem of settling the Ohio coal strike. This atom of advance was a suggestion from the ranks of the miners' representatives on the committee that a scale of 47 cents a ton for machine mined coal, run of mine system, might be acceptable. This is approximately a compromise scale between that which the miners have been battling for and the biggest offer—the Pittsburgh scale of 44.61—forthcoming from the operators of the five districts represented in the conference. However, the 47 cent proposition has not yet taken the form of an offer.

C. H. & D. DEFAULTS ON INTEREST DUE

New York, July 1.—Officers of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railway today defaulted payment of interest, due July 1, on several bond issues.

A formal demand was made by holders of the $9,207,000 Pere Marquette refunding 4 per cent bonds for July 1 interest on that issue on the ground that the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railway had guaranteed that interest, but payment was refused. Afterward a banker representing holders of the Pere Marquette coupons said suit would be brought against the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railway to compel the company to make good its guarantee. The company has contended the guarantee could not be enforced because of the conditions under which it was made.

According to an officer of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton in this city the Baltimore and Ohio has advanced to the smaller road a total of about $21,000,000, of which $3,500,000 was advanced in the last year for purposes other than construction. The company will have a deficit of about $3,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, this official said.

UNDER WING OF B. & O.

Cincinnati, O., July 2.—At the offices of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton yesterday the impression prevailed that, if the road were forced into a receivership, the Baltimore and Ohio would operate it under the direction of the receivers. It was pointed out that a continuance of the present arrangement, whereby the system is operated practically as an adjunct of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern, would be the simplest and the most economical method of procedure. If found necessary the application for receivership, it is believed here, will probably be made in this city.

JUSTICE OFFICIATES AT THESE WEDDINGS

Wednesday evening, Justice T. N. Craig was summoned to the court house to officiate in the union of Harry Zimmerman, 23, of New Holland, and Elma Watson, 18, of this county.

Thursday morning Justice Craig was again summoned to the Probate Judge's office where George Mongold, 50, laborer, and Margaret Cheek, 65, were waiting to launch on the sea of matrimony, and they were quickly united in marriage.

Neither of the last couple could write their own name. However, this fact apparently did not worry the happy couple.

TWO INTOXICATED BOTH DRAW USUAL

STREET ALMOST READY FOR PAVING

Excavation will be completed this week on West Temple street between Main and Hinde, and it is expected that all will be in readiness for the laying of the concrete about Monday.

When the actual laying of the concrete starts the finish of the work will be a matter of a very short time. This strip of paving is being laid under the direction of experts and will be in the nature of a sample. Besides this the workmen will have learned to install this kind of paving in the right way, which is the most essential thing.

KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Miner B. Wheeler, aged 39, killed himself and wife, Altha, at St. Louis, Wednesday. The terrible scene was witnessed by the 13-year-old stepdaughter, who was held at arm's length by the father, while he sent a bullet crashing through his own brain. He is said to have been jealous and committed the double killing while in a jealous rage. Wheeler only recently moved from Chillicothe, Ohio, to St. Louis, and he formerly resided at Blanchester.

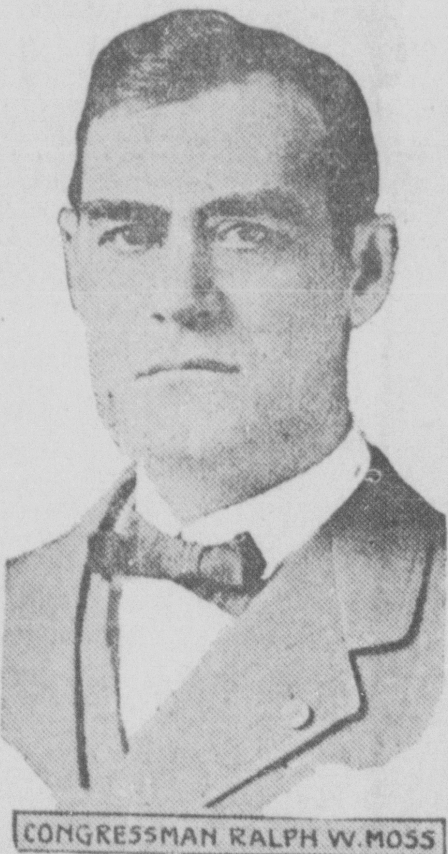

BROKEN HEADS FOLLOW QUARREL

Following an altercation at the race course Wednesday afternoon, two colored horsemen engaged in an ugly fight which ended in both receiving painful wounds, from which the blood flowed freely.

After each had drawn blood on his adversary, the scrap ended. The affair caused quite a little excitement among the other trainers for a few minutes.

RACING FOR SLEEP.

Running Around the Bed Is Said to Induce Drowsiness.

There is nothing in the world quite as exasperating as not being able to go to sleep when you want to, and persistent insomnia is one of the greatest curses of mankind. But many people suffer from insomnia from lack of knowing many of the simple devices that have been used in the past to provoke sleep, and Sir James Sawyer in a recent work points out how valuable some of these simple means have been.

Few plans are more successful, he suggests, than that of running around the bed, particularly if the night is cold. It will be remembered that Charles Dickens, who was greatly afflicted with sleeplessness, declared that if he could lean on the bedpost in thin attire, in which he usually slept, until he got chilled clear through the return to a warm bed would produce a drowsiness that led him along the path of sleep.

William Harvey, the discoverer of the circulation of the blood, was a believer in the circulation of the bed also. He declared that for sleeplessness nothing was better than to jump out of bed suddenly, as though frightened, race around the bed with very little on until the skin was cold and the body heated and then jump back into bed. Not only was the exercise good, he believed, but also the feeling that one was being withheld from going to bed caused a desire for it, which prepared the mind for sleep when once more lying down.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WAR IS WHAT?

Some Varied Points of View That Reach Far, Far Apart.

The Enlistment—A chance to break the deadly routine of the parade ground with some real excitement. In isolated cases to provide opportunities for military or political advancement.

The Business Man—A period of economical depression, often followed by large failures and the consequent loss of the public's investments.

The Volunteer—A stern patriotic duty to be entered upon without inquiry as to its justice or injustice.

The Philosopher—An unintelligent and gross instrument for the settlement of the world's unavoidable quarrels.

The Historian—A logical, if somewhat regrettable, method of arranging the world's boundary lines.

The Optimist—The natural strife of humanity, tending toward the general betterment of the social cosmos.

The Pessimist—The natural strife of humanity, tending toward the general destruction of the universe.

The Mother—A long vigil in an empty room and a memory of child voices forever stilled.

The Wife—A husband gone, a home destroyed and a woman's heart broken.

The Seer—The last great barrier between civilization and the millennium.—Life.

Continental English.

The idea that English is to be the universal language of the future seems to be spreading. Certainly thousands of Europeans struggle bravely with its rules and idioms. Here is a sample of the progress that has been made in one quarter. It is taken from the advertising matter that a large continental hotel publishes in the form of an elaborate illustrated booklet:

"Its spacious dimensions, exquisite comfort, elegant fashion of its furnishing, the unobjectionable prerogatives as to the produce of its kitchen and contents of its cellars, beside the distinguished managing, which, assisted by well experienced attendants, does its utmost in always duly treating—all this united already for many years past obtained a general renown, even abroad too."

L'Aiglon's Grave Neglected.

"L'Aiglon," the son of Napoleon, was unfortunate throughout his brief life, and his very memory is now neglected. He lies buried in Vienna, and his tomb is described by the correspondent of a French contemporary as a "melancholy spectacle." Only a copper plate attests to the fact that the little king of Rome is buried there, and not a flower decks the grave. This neglect is the more vivid inasmuch as the surrounding royal tombs, including that of his mother, who was an Austrian, are richly ornamented and surrounded with a luxurious growth of flowers.—London Globe.

A Late Book.

Mrs. Hoyt, who became the possessor of a fortune by the death of an aunt, did not like to admit her ignorance of any subject.

One afternoon she had a call from a prominent society woman, and the conversation turned upon books.

"Have you read Shakespeare's works?" asked the caller.

"Oh, yes, indeed," replied Mrs. Hoyt.

"all of them—that is," she added hastily, "unless he has written something very lately."—National Monthly.

How to Win an Author.

"There's no greater fallacy," said an author at the Authors' club, "than the popular one to the effect that writers don't like you to talk to them about their work."

"Mark Twain exploded this fallacy well when he said that there were three ways of pleasing an author—first, to tell him that you have read one of his books; second, to tell him you have read all his books, and, third, to ask him to let you read the manuscript of his forthcoming book. The first way wins his respect, the second wins his friendship and the third wins his love."—New York Tribune.

He Thought He Was Handsome.

"So she has quarreled with that ugly beau of hers! He is the ugliest man I have ever seen. What did they quarrel about?"

"She thought she would make him feel good and remarked that handsome men were never worth enough powder to blow them over the fence."

"And it didn't have the desired effect?"

"No; it made him furiously angry."—Houston Post.
